EUCOM Supports NATO Deployed Contracting Workshop

JFCOM, EUCOM and NATO sent representatives to a strategic engagement event focused on contingency contracting in Skopje, Macedonia from 6 - 8 April. Part of LOGEX 09, the Army of the Republic of Macedonia hosted a Deployed Contracting and National Support Element Workshop.

2009

The aim of the workshop was to train members of the Macedonian, Albanian and Croatian Armed Forces on deployment, NATO C2 systems, host nation support and sustainment as related to contingency contracting.

I provided information and experience from a U.S.-contracting perspective.

Operationalizing New Media

Advantages

- Fastest way to get info, photos and video out
- Participate in real-time discussions as THE source of credible information
- Establishes transparency and builds relationship with audiences

Disadvantages

- Requires working knowledge of New Media
- Cannot recall your message
- No established metrics to measure success

Operationalizing New Media: Lessons

Learned

- All PA staffs and senior leadership must be able to understand and use New Media
- Expand your “Old Media” followers on Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn
- Implement Media Analysis to leverage actionable data
- Synchronize messages with Strategic Comm.
- Use Tinyurl to push followers back to your Web site
- Use PING.fm as a micro-blog force multiplier
- Track Twitter discussions with TweetGrid using country hashtags (i.e., #iraq)

The Way Ahead

- Work with ECJ6 to consider staff access to key social media sites
- Collaborate with AMEMB PAOs on use of NM and increase content from downrange activities
- Develop metrics to determine effectiveness of NM
- Consider Microsoft Sharepoint as a follow-on solution for EUCOM.mil site
- Monitor the latest Web trends and make improvements to Web site and social media presence
